EUROMAIDAN BOOK

As some of you know, I started writing these mails on Saturday, Dec. 1st, 2013, the day after students were beaten up on Independence Square in Kyiv, the start of the Euromaidan Revolution now known as the “Revolution of Dignity,” and the day before the first massive demonstration on Independence Square.

To mark the 10th Anniversary of the start of the Euromaidan Revolution and the concurrent beginning of these emails, I am making available a never been published book that I wrote in 2016, incorporating many of the emails I wrote during that period, plus extensive additional material. I was also interested in learning about how the Euromaidan Revolution was managed, especially its leadership. From my research and extensive interviews, I concluded that the leadership of Euromaidan was not what either Western experts or the Russians expected, or the kind of leadership one might learn at business school. As a result, there was continual misunderstanding between the protestors, and those in the West and Russia whom they believed constituted the leadership.

Among other things the book contains:

- Extensive interviews with those involved in various aspects of Euromaidan, including:
 - Those responsible for food service and distribution
 - The design and placing of the barricades that protected Independence Square from the Interior Ministry police, known as the “Berkut”

- The person who established the initial first-aid station on Independence Square, and who later was responsible for managing and operating first-aid stations and makeshift hospitals located throughout Central Kyiv
 - A leader of one of the volunteer battalions
 - A member of “AutoMaidan”
 - The leadership of organizations located outside of Kyiv that provided logistical support and money, to support the protests in Independence Square, without which Euromaidan might have turned out differently.
- Also included is an extensive collection of YouTube videos, that appear in footnotes. covering the protests and the fighting. Some of the videos are very hard to watch. Included are:
 - Video of a presentation in Washington, DC by Yulia Tymoshenko’s legal team, rebutting the claims made by Yanukovich’s legal team of graft that took place when Tymoshenko was Prime Minister of Ukraine. The video amounts to dueling American “white shoe” law firms.
 - Video of a lecture given by my wife, Larysa, on December 12, 2013, on Independence Square sponsored by the Open University of Ukraine
 - Videos of the tragic events on Institutska Street, that took place on February 20, 2014
 - Security camera footage from Yanukovich’s estate, Mezhihiryia taken on February 18, 2014, showing movers moving Yanukovich’s personal effects, 4 days before his actual departure.
 - My own observations and stories from being in Kyiv throughout Euromaidan.

I have decided to withhold the names of those private individuals whom I interviewed, some of whom are now fighting in the Army. Other than this the book, and emails contained therein, are as I first wrote them.

As an exclusive offer to email recipients, you can purchase an advance copy of the book for $25.00, or in any other recognized currency. It's in the form of an Ebook. To purchase, please click on the link HERE. After December 9, 2023, the price will be $30.00. I have no immediate plans to publish the book, so this is an exclusive offer.

I am very excited to offer the book to all loyal recipients.

Today's Wall Street Journal

There are two articles from the Wall Street Journal, one of the "newspapers of record" both of which are of interest.

The first article is entitled, "Putin Has Staked Russia's Resources on Victory in Ukraine, Can the West Match Him?" As we've said numerous times, the West really has no other choice but to match and exceed Russian production, and ensure Ukraine's victory, unless they want a nasty guerrilla war on NATO's eastern flank. Thanks largely to support from the West, Ukraine has the largest standing army in Europe, ex Russia. That army isn't going away.

Ukraine is well supplied to engage in a guerrilla war, for the following reasons:

- Partisan groups have been organized and training since 2014, especially in the area around Melitopol that is part of the "land bridge" to Crimea. We've seen how much damage they can do, to Russian logistics, killing pro-Russian officials, and other operations.
- Early in the war, much of the Western support to Ukraine consisted of Javelins, Stingers, NLaws, and other light assault weapons. It was extended under the assumption that Ukraine would need lighter weapons to fight a guerrilla war. Added to this has been the production and use of drones, plus the heavier weapons that Ukraine began receiving in mid 2022. Ukraine will be able to prosecute a guerrilla war with a variety of lethal weapons, well after the conclusion of any "ceasefire."
- Ukraine has also deployed agents inside Russia, who have been engaged in destroying Russian infrastructure and logistics facilities all over the Russian Federation.

All of this will allow Ukraine to continue fighting, well after the conclusion of any so-called ceasefire that the West might attempt to impose on Ukraine. This is why the West really has no other choice, but to match Russian military production.

The article mentions that Russia's GDP is being enhanced by all the military spending Russia is undertaking. Not only does this serve to increase inflation, as the WSJ article states but, unlike spending on productive assets like autos or capital goods directed at domestic consumption, military spending provides minimal value added to a national economy.

The 2nd WSJ article is an Op-Ed by former British Prime Minister Liz Truss, entitled "The World Again Needs American Leadership." The 2nd paragraph of Ms. Truss' Op-Ed states, "The world would benefit from more of that kind of American leadership today. I hope that a Republican will be returned to the White House in 2024. There must be conservative leadership in the U.S. that is once again bold enough to call out hostile regimes as evil and a threat."

Unfortunately, at least 3 of the Republican Presidential candidates, Donald Trump, Ron DeSantis, and Vivek Ramaswamy are opposed to the kind of American leadership that Ms. Truss advocates. A majority of Republican Members of Congress support aid to Ukraine yet Mike Johnson, the new Speaker of the U.S. House of Representatives, recently went down to Mar-a-Lago to kowtow to Donald Trump, much like Lord McCartney kowtowed to the Manchu Emperor in 1793.

The leadership from Republicans that Ms. Truss refers to came from Republicans like Ronald Reagan. Let's hope that Republicans will repudiate the type of leadership offered by Presidential candidates Trump, DeSantis and Ramaswamy, Senators like J.D. Vance (R-Ohio) or Josh Hawley (R-Missouri), and Representatives like Majorie Taylor Greene (R-Georgia) and Matt Gaetz (R-Florida), and by doing so make it more likely that the United States, Republicans in particular, will provide the type of leadership that Ms. Truss advocates.

News From the Battlefield

Both "Reporting From Ukraine" and "The Latest Denys" focus on Avdiivka. In 2014 & 2015 Ukraine built formidable defense lines in front of Avdiivka, against Russians and separatist occupiers of Donetsk Oblast. It is these defense lines that Russia is now trying to breach, at a huge cost in lives. Yesterday, estimated Russian losses in dead and seriously wounded were "only" 750, compared to over 1,000 in previous days.

The Latest Denys also covers fighting around Robotyne, where Ukraine is trying to widen its salient, and a major snowstorm (9:10 into the video) that is hitting the Kherson Region and now, according to Bohdan, hitting Kyiv. At 10:10 into Denys' video he also mentions what appears to be a cyclone that is hitting Crimea, causing major power outages and flooding, especially along the low-lying west coast of Crimea. Denys mentions that there are waves reaching over 25 feet high. As a largely enclosed body of water, when agitated by a large storm the Black Sea acts like a giant bathtub. Perhaps Mother Nature is replacing Storm Shadows, at least temporarily.
