

Oksana has asked me to keep notes on Zoriana's growth. Earlier this year I have written quite a bit about Eddie. This is an index to the stuff I've written.

Zoriana was born on September 7. Here is the birth announcement dated September 10, 2017. It includes links to summaries of what everybody else in the family is doing in our travel plans.

Here's a link to the Christmas letter I was planning to send to my former family. Since they have not communicated with me much at all, it consists of reminiscences of long ago interspersed with observations about Eddie today. As I was writing this I made one last futile attempt to contact them. I will not do so again.

Here is a link to my observations about Zoriana at three months.