

Turtles All the Way Down. Virtues of anonymity. Outings and expeditions.

Aug 29, 2022

Yesterday I reported that Amazon had refused my review of Edward Dutton's "Spiteful Mutants." All of these social media platforms cite "community guidelines," giving you no clue as to what you did wrong. You are truly dealing with faceless phantom persecutors.

I am not my own best editor. I left out a link to my video on human evolution which in large measure agrees with Dutton. His books are fuller in detail and footnotes. My one hour video tells the story of evolution in narrative with a lot of graphics. I'm proud of the graphics – I haven't seen other people do anything similar.

Today I have uploaded a video review of "Turtles All the Way Down – Vaccine Science and Myth." Amazon has been sitting on this video review for three days. Don't know if they are reluctant or just slow. Past experience has convinced me that YouTube would reject it out of hand, so I have opened a Rumble account.

The book was published in Hebrew in 2019, before Covid came out. That is, before so many of us learned so very much about the whole business of vaccines. It is absolutely authoritative. The Israeli authors had the good sense to remain anonymous. The book is is thoroughly documented as any I have ever seen. It has 1200 citations, just about all from vaccine friendly sources: the pharmaceutical companies themselves, the FDA, the CDC, peer-reviewed medical journals, academic journals, the popular press and so on.

The 270 pages of references are in a separate PDF available for free download. The published book includes an additional 230 explanatory footnotes. This device allows the authors to provide very thorough and useful notes without making the book overly expensive or simply too heavy.

Remaining anonymous seems to be a pretty popular move. A consortium of 60 scientists has thoroughly analyzed the contents of the Covid 19 vaccines from all of the major Western pharmaceutical companies. They confirm what the tinfoil hat folks have been saying for a year and a half now, that they all contain unexpected and dangerous ingredients. As with the Turtles All the Way Down book, the authors are confident enough in the content of their publication that they do not need to put their heads in a noose by identifying themselves. They will go with Proverbs 12:20 - "The LORD has given us eyes to see with and ears to listen with." At this point the people who don't know the story are willfully, consciously ignorant.

We simply do not know much about the Russian and Chinese vaccines, or their side effects. More and more is coming out. Edward Slavsquat has written extensively about the Russian vaccines. This morning I read about a study looking at the ingredients in vaccines from 12 different manufacturers, including four from China:

- Pfizer/BioNTech/Cominarty,
- Moderna,
- Johnson & Johnson (J&J),
- Novavax,
- AstraZeneca,
- Sinopharm (China),
- Sinovac (China),
- Covishield (AstraZeneca made in India),
- Soberana 02 (Cuba),
- Pasto Covac (Iran),
- CanSino (China),
- ZifiVax (China)

Not surprisingly, they all seem to contain pretty much the same types of unlisted toxic ingredients. We know that Russia and AstraZeneca were working closely at the time the Sputnik vaccine came out. It is probably the same story.
